Members cited a lack of inventory as the leading reason clients haven't completed a transaction, according to NAR's 2021 Member Profile released today. However, despite the global pandemic, 2020 saw the highest number of homes sold since 2006, and NAR's membership increased.

Will Spending Spur the Economy

The economy is at 99% of its pre-pandemic activity, and growth in Americans' income and savings could propel housing in the second half of the year, says NAR Chief Economist Lawrence Yun.
